Duke Wins National Title For 100 In Record Time

Wins Classic Event in 53 1-5 Seconds—Hawaii Swimmers Win First Three Places—"Stubby" Kruger Sets New World Record—Langer Has New Mark in 1000 Yard Swim, and Threatens Ross' Mark in 800—Duke Makes 53 Flat in Relay Event Last Evening

Duke P. Kahanamoku, premier short distance swimming champion, retained his honors last evening on the harbor by winning the 100 yard national championship in world's record time, touching the float at the end of the century with a bang in the feature event of the swimming meet. His time was 53 1-5 seconds, equalling the world's record held by himself.

Hawaii showed the mainline that when it comes to sprinting there is only one answer. The result of the finish of the century which will be flashed around the world shows Duke, first; Clarence Lane, a grammar school boy, second; George Cunha, third; Herbert Vollmer, fourth, and Ted Cann, fifth.

Had John Kelli not withdrawn on account of illness Hawaii might have placed the first four men. It was a great meet from every standpoint, but the real feature was the work of Duke, Lane and Cunha. Duke has gone back as a sprinter, said someone yesterday. It wouldn't be a bad idea for this someone to go out on the highways and byways and dig up a few more who had gone back.

Duke wasn't tight last night, and if he had made 54, there would have been no surprises. In the longer swims he did not show the leg motion that has carried him to victory. He wasn't in the best of shape to begin the race, and his work is all the more remarkable. There isn't a swimmer today who can take Duke's measure for the short distances, and his performances of last night were convincing to those who believed he would fall in the century.

Duke made 53 in relay. Although no official records were kept Duke made a world's record in the 100 yard last evening in the relay, and there is a question as to whether or not he made it in 53 or 53 1-5. Two watches caught the champion in this time, and had he been given a harder race in the championship might have clipped 1-5 of a second from the record. When Duke reached the float at the end of the 100 he slammed the float with a bang which could be heard on the pier.

Duke was away to a good start in the century swim and for the first 50 yards was on even terms with Lane and Cunha. Then he began a powerful sprint with his arms cutting the water and true to the barge he sailed and touched the finish line in record time. It was the finish of a great race.

Lane Was Second
At the 60 yard mark Cunha was leading Lane by two feet, when Lane began a sprint which carried him to the second place only a stroke ahead of Cunha. Vollmer made an attempt to catch the Hawaii trio near the 70 yard mark, but the pace was too fast, and Cunha beat the Columbia swimmer by a fair margin.

The showing made by Clarence Lane was another surprise at the meeting. The grammar school boy had not made better than 55 in the century before. Last night he fought gamely throughout, and made an attempt to catch Duke in the last 10 yards, and reached the finish line in time around 54. George Cunha made a great race of it, and in fact made better time than in the 100 yard Hawaiian championship.

Crowd Goes Wild
When Duke reached the barge an easy winner, the crowd went wild and hats were thrown into the water, cushions were thrown across the stand into the swimmers' course. A tough fight ensued a while, and the Hut Natus went. There will be a number of very weak voices this day, caused by a Hawaiian victory.

When Hawaii was awarded the 100 yard national championship no one expected that when the finishing line was reached three Honolulu boys would be in the first three places. Duke deserves a heap of credit for his great showing, and there is plenty of it left for Clarence Lane and George Cunha who beat the New Yorkers, and made a clean sweep, "Stubby" Gets World Mark

Harold Kruger set a new world's record for the 100 yard backstroke last evening when he reached the buoy in 1:14 1-5 seconds. "Stubby" was out for a record and set a new mark for the distance in open water. The best previous record was held by Walter Brack of Germany, who made 1:16 4-5 seconds, in 1904, at St. Louis.

"Stubby" was not pushed at the start, and had he kept to his course might have chalked up a better mark for the century. He tired at the turn, and Clarence Lane, coming from behind, gave him a harder race at the finish. France was third.

Close to Best Time
Ludy Langer once more proved that he was the premier long and middle distance swimmer of America by setting a fast pace for the half mile and the Los Angeles swimmer finished the 880 yards in 11:29 3-5 seconds, only 4 3-5 seconds under the American record made by Norman Ross. Langer announced that he was going after the half mile record, and the visiting swimmer made a great effort to beat the time of Ross, and had he been pushed might have established the fastest time ever made in open water in America. Langer is certainly a lower Ross' mark before he is through.

Going on to the 1000-yard mark the Los Angeles swimmer continued at a past pace, using his rotary stroke which carried him through the water at a fast clip, and finished the 1000 yards in 13:07 3-5. This lowers the record held by Herbert Vollmer of 13:50 3-5, and is a new world's record for the distance in open water in a 1000-yard course.

The relay race, which concluded the swimming program, was a real thriller. It brought out Duke, who made record time for the distance, going the century in 53 at the meet, and showing without doubt that he is far and away the premier short distance swimmer. He had two races in one evening which equaled the world's record, which is not at all bad, even for a champion.

Kelli Is Game
Healoni won the relay for the first 500 and 600 yards, and Duke finished for the picked team made up of swimmers from all the clubs. The marks set by the Healan swimmers are American records for the distance. John Kelli entered this event and made a great race of it throughout. He swam three races on Saturday suffering from the effects of an abscess, and again last night made an effort, his work is to be complimented. After finishing a great relay, where he beat out Cann, he came back to the float and was rushed to the hospital, where an operation was performed. The game youngster proved that he is to be counted on in future meets.

Robert Fuller again won out in the diving events, and retained his championship. Jack Hjorth, the little diver, made a great showing and finished third, with "Kute" Cottrell second.

Five Honolulu Swimmers Who Challenge The World

Honolulu presents these swimmers as their remotest aggregation that can be gathered together in any city in the world. Left to right—John Kelli, new swimming marvel, who made a great showing on Saturday night on the harbor. He swam the 220 yards under 2:30 and finished second in the Hawaiian championship. In addition to these performances he made a great spurt in the 440 and finished third. Next, George Cunha, second in the Hawaiian championship, who won this event from John Kelli and Clarence Lane. Cunha also tied for third place in the 220-yard swim. Duke P. Kahanamoku, world's champion, who equalled his record for the 100 yards and came within a fraction of setting a new mark for the 50-yard event. He tied for third in the 100 yards. Harold ("Stubby") Kruger, who made a new world's mark in the 100-yard backstroke last evening. Clarence Lane, who was second to Duke Kahanamoku in a great race to the finish line last evening. Lane made the 100 in 0:54. These are Honolulu's best, and proved during the meeting that they were the best sprint swimmers in the world.

Five New Records Set At Autumn Race Meet

Second Day's Program Features Record Breaking in Harness and Running Events—Frances B., Copra and Satisfax Create New Marks—Two New Records Made in Free for All Trot and Pace—Banner Crowd Turns Out to Meeting

Five new records were smashed at the Kapiolani race track yesterday at the second day of the autumn meet. One of the records has been held for years. A large crowd was out to witness the events, and the program was one that was much appreciated by those present. Records were the order of the day, and Dr. Monsarrat, the announcer, was busy calling out new track records.

One of the feature events of the day was the mile and a half for Hawaiian-bred horses. The Duke of Norfolk, owned by Col. Z. S. Spalding, had set a mark of 2:46 2-5 for one mile and a half in 1896. This record stood until yesterday when H. A. Baldwin's Frances B. set a fast pace for the first mile and came home to the wire in 2:43 2-5, breaking the former mark by three full seconds. This race was a runaway, as Koichi did not threaten throughout the race.

Satisfax Wins Again
Satisfax again proved to Schofield admirers that the little black mare has speed over any distance, by winning from Umpqua in record time, beating Copra's time of 48 2-5, and smashing the track record held by Venus of 48. Lieat. Hoyle's entry marked up 47 1-5 for the distance.

When the starters lined up in the four furlong race for Hawaiian-breds Frances B. and Andy Giff were scratched, and Copra, Golden Shower and Skyscraper got away to a good start. Copra took the lead early and was not in danger throughout. Golden Shower had no excuse, while Skyscraper, who was second, was well back at the wire. This is a new track record for Hawaiian-breds.

The other two records were made in the free-for-all trot and pace. Welcome Boy made 2:13 1-5 in the first heat, Denervo, 2:12 4-5 in the second. Welcome Boy won the third and fourth heats in 2:13 and 2:14 3-5. These were the fastest three heats and fastest four heats at the track.

Kai Wins Again
Kai was a double winner at the meeting, being carried to the wire by Lieut. L. A. Beard in 26 seconds yesterday morning. On Saturday Alice Macfarlane rode Kai to the wire in 24 4-5 seconds. In the polo pony race Harold Castle made a great ride on Jennie C, but could not catch Kai. Charles Lucas came strong, riding Annie.

The fifth race brought out Lahontan Water, who won as he pleased from Young Lady. This horse, entered by Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, showed much promise, and getting off to a good start held the lead throughout. As much as the entry was removed from quarantine the same day, the race was a good effort.

Boom to Racing
Without doubt there was more interest taken at this meeting than at the last, although the entries did not measure up to the June meeting, but with a number of horses imported from Reno the racing fans are certain to see a banner program at the next meeting. The fact that so many of the dark horses made a good showing proves that racing is going to be a big sport here.

The next meeting of importance has not been arranged, but there will be a special match race between Fur

SWIMMING RECORDS MADE IN U.S. WHICH HAVE BEEN PLACED ON BOOKS

American swimmers reaped a harvest of records during the season that began last evening. Most of the figures have been placed on books, and the knowledge, however, that the latter are the best ever chronicled under any conditions, actually and comparatively. The list of performances fully vouched for which have been submitted to the A. A. U. authorities for acceptance follows:

Fort Shafter Sees Two Labor Day Ball Games

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORTH SHAFTER, Sept. 5.—Labor Day in the morning was duly celebrated in the post by a baseball game between the Engineers and C Company, 2d Infantry, in which contest the theodolite-gazers put it all over the doughboys and ended a long discussion as to relative superiority by a score of 12 to 8. The game was noteworthy on account of one ball being knocked into the right area weeds, and some old cow browsing around there will get appendicitis from eating a Reach diet and Postma of the constant campers will be responsible. He hit the home run, you know.

An extremely lively inning at the bat for C Company showed that they lived up to their name, for they did "C" the ball, and their whacks and wallops brought in four runs in the

The game ran full eleven innings as the "ape-liners" evened up the first of the 11th, started by that planetary crack from Postma's willow. The game was remarkable on account of much batting, and good hits too, and for the great equality of the two teams.

Medina, as pitcher, seemed to have a slight advantage over Hogue until that unlucky 11th, and had some very capable fielding in back of him, both in the outer diamond and in the inner lot. The third baseman, Baxter, played a very pretty game and his throwing (Continued on page 13)
